

COUNTY TREASURER HAS RECORD MONTH

More Business Done During June Than Ever Before in Tulsa History

A greater volume of business was transacted in the office of the county treasurer during the month of June than ever before in its history. Total receipts for the month soared to $485,115.11, showing an increase of more than $108,000, which was collected last January and which made that month the banner one for the office.

Collection of the second half general taxes had much to do with the enormous increase in receipts. The large clerical force employed in the treasurer's office has worked overtime in order to handle the crowds that have filed by the windows each day and to tackle the great grist of mail.

Although the time limit for receiving taxes had been set for several days ago several large stacks of mail still remained to be handled and County Treasurer Ed Dalton decided to keep the windows open until this business had been finished.

The tax books will be closed today and Monday morning the penalty will be fixed. Practically all of the mail had been cared for yesterday, but it was decided to give those who have not settled one more chance to do so before the extra 1 1/2 per cent a month will be added to the principal.

WILL ISSUE BONDS FOR WAR DEMANDS

Leaders Reach Agreement Under Which Congress Will Act.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—An agreement under which Congress is expected to authorize a federal bond issue to meet the extraordinary expenses of the Mexican emergency was reached today by administration leaders. Under the plan such an issue actually would be made only in case the ordinary resources of the treasury and the additional $210,000,000 expected from the administration revenue bill prove insufficient.

What form the bonds will take should an issue be found necessary has not been determined. Some leaders favor issuance of some of the Panama canal 2s, of which a balance of $248,569,000 remains in the treasury, and others believe a special emergency bond should be put out. Treasury officials emphasized, however, that in view of the balance of close to $200,000,000 on hand at the end of the fiscal year tonight, the authority asked of Congress might not have to be invoked.

The exact amount of the treasury surplus for the fiscal year will not be known until tomorrow, but at the close of business yesterday it was $174,171,845, and officials believed today's receipts would increase it to more than $200,000,000. Total income tax receipts up to today were $68,191,675, as compared with $43,525,149 a year ago. Internal revenue officers throughout the country kept open until midnight and the yearly total from the tax was expected to amount to more than $115,000,000. Nearly 50 per cent of the $55,000,000 it yielded last year came in during the last day of the fiscal year. The total ordinary receipts for the year, including June 29, were $112,654,574.

NEW YORK SOLDIERS DROWNED

Two Members of Fourteenth N. Y. Regiment Meet Death in Missouri.
Louis Reltz and Robert Daly, privates in Company H, Fourteenth New York regiment of National Guard, are supposed to have been drowned in the Gasconade river near Jerome, Mo., Thursday afternoon while bathing in the river. The clothes of the men were found on the banks and officers were so certain of their death that the mothers of the two men were notified yesterday.

The men were drowned while they, with one thousand of their comrades, were swimming in the little stream. The railroad officials had allowed the train to be stopped for half an hour while the Brooklynites refreshed themselves. About five hundred members of the Ninth Massachusetts joined them, making over a thousand bathers.

Prohibit Sale of Alcohol.

PETROGRAD, July 1.—(Via London, 9:12 p. m.)—The duma today passed the bill permanently prohibiting the sale of drink containing more than and one-half per cent of alcohol. The measure must be passed by the upper house and signed by the emperor before becoming a law.

MONTHLY REPORT MADE BY POLICE

Make 600 Arrests in the Thirty Days and Collect $5,400 in Fines.

The city's police department collected in fines during the past month approximately $5,400, and paid out in salaries $2,400, and in feeding the prisoners confined in the city jail $452.

The number of arrests made during the thirty-day period was approximately six hundred. Four hundred and twenty white male persons, 75 were negro male, and 18 Indians were apprehended. In comparison with the number of male persons arrested, the women confined in the police station jail were almost negligible, something less than a hundred falling into the clutches of the law.

During the month 330 calls were answered by the police patrol, and more than seven hundred persons were conveyed to the police station.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS GO TO TAHLEQUAH

Thirty-Five Tulsa Girls
Leave at 8 o'Clock This Morning for Tahlequah

Clad in military attire, thirty-five girls of Tulsa will march to the Midland Valley depot at 8 o'clock this morning, there to embark for Tahlequah, where a week's outing awaits them. The state encampment of Campfire girls opens at Camp Tahlequah tomorrow and lasts until July 10. The Tulsa girls will be joined at Muskogee by about fifty girls from that city and vicinity. Okmulgee is sending a contingent as are several small cities around Tulsa.

The camp is assured of being the most successful of its kind ever held in Oklahoma, according to officials. The site is far and away the best in the state, being kept in perfect condition. Permanent buildings, tent floors and other equipment insure a certain amount of comfort. Miss Florence Hanson of the Young Women's Christian association and C. H. Fenstermacher of the Young Men's Christian association will have supervision of the camp. Miss Eva Horner will be assistant. F. E. Pierson, physical director of the "Y. M. C.," will organize the girls into military groups and give them a course of instruction in drilling. C. E. Buchner will speak to the girls tomorrow. J. Katz, principal of the high school who is now at Tahlequah, will give lecture one night on astronomy. Several other instructors in the Tahlequah normal school will give talks to the girls. The Black Hawk Indians will give an exhibition of their old-time games.

MAKE KICKS TO CITY FATHERS

Protests Are Made Relative to Closing of Streets; Budget Is Taken Up.

But few important measures came before the city commissioners at their meeting yesterday morning. The matter of the city budget which is being prepared was discussed briefly and it was agreed to go into executive session and complete the preparation of this important matter this afternoon.

The commissioners also heard several protests relative to the closing of streets in the city, one being signed by the owners of the Garment Factory, who intimate that proceedings for damages will follow the closing of the street.

Doctor Hawley's segregation ordinance was presented, but upon a motion was referred to the city attorney for consideration before it will be finally acted upon by the commissioners.

Prof. S. M. Smith of the Tulsa Business college appeared before the commissioners and asked that the pupils in his school be granted the same privileges as those of the school children of the city, that of securing half fare tickets on street cars. This matter also was referred to the city attorney for a decision.

Secretary to Governor.

RINGLING, Okla., July 1.—Arthur L. Walker of Waurika today announced his acceptance of the position of secretary to Governor Williams and closed his office in the Headton oil field preparatory to resigning his commission as state conservation officer. Corporation Commissioner George Henshaw probably will look after conservation work for the time being.

HEARING HIGH-FLYING BIRDS.

Often the Ear Will Detect Migrants
Too High Up to Be Seen.

On September 29, 1894, an astronomer at Shere, England, was studying the sun through a telescope. Every few seconds during the ten minutes he watched, says St. Nicholas, a bird was seen to pass slowly through his field, flying in a southerly direction, but with the naked eye not a bird could be seen.

Our ears really tell us more than our unaided eyes about the day fliers which are traveling far up in the sky. With nothing to turn them from their course, sound waves carry surprising distances either up from the earth or down to it.

Balloonists tell us how clearly they can hear voices of people who are scarcely visible to them. So we may hear the noise of passing birds which are traveling at too great a height to be seen.

The mellow whistles of certain snipe and plover tell us that they are passing along the birds' airline when it is impossible for us to see them. But, if we answer, we may in time see a black speck in the sky which responds to our call and finally circles overhead.

On one occasion, in Central park, New York city, I heard the flutlike call of a yellow leg snipe, which was migrating over the city. Perhaps he was calling to some companion in the sky. Certainly there was nothing on the earth to attract him.

But putting my fingers to my lips, I whistled a loud imitation of his notes. Quickly he answered, I whisted again, and soon could see a black dot circling high above me. Larger and larger it grew, louder and more frequent became his cry, and within a minute, much to the surprise of passersby, the bird was flying anxiously back and forth just over my head.

But unable to find the bird which had called him, he soon mounted high in the air and continued his journey.

Not Always Synonymous.

Mary, writing a letter: "Which shall I say, 'Mrs. Brown called last evening,' or 'Mrs. Brown called last night?'"

Sari, looking up from his paper: "Either expression will do; they mean the same thing."

"If that is the case, why do we say 'good evening' when a visitor calls, and 'good-night' when he goes?"

"From force of habit, I presume. Evening and night are synonymous terms."

"Well, they may be synonymous, but when my name appears in the society columns I guess you would rather have the report say that I appeared 'clad in a tasteful' evening gown instead of saying 'I was clad in a tasteful nightgown.'"

Appropriate.

"Della studied medicine, you know, and I've taken a cooking school course."

"We're going to start a magazine called 'What to Eat and How to Get Over It.'—San Francisco Chronicle."

To Disinter Body.

MEXICO CITY, July 1.—James Linn Rodgers, special agent of the state department, called at the war office today relative to an inquiry from the state department at Washington regarding the disintering of the body of Captain Charles T. Boyd, who was killed at Carrizal. The foreign office promised Mr. Rodgers that it would issue the necessary orders to expedite the work in order that the request of the widow of the dead American officer that the body be shipped to the United States for burial might be granted.

SEATTLE, July 1.—Fire late tonight completely destroyed pier 11, known as the "Oriente" dock, at the foot of Virginia street. The pier is used by the United States army quartermaster department as the wharf for the cable steamer Burnside. Half an hour after the fire started it was apparent that the flames would be confined to pier 11.

Roadside Humor.

Every town has its meanest man, but Pratt has the two meanest men in the world. They were out riding in a big car the other day and came across two young men who were riding on a bicycle. "Tired of walking?" asked the girls. "You bet," said one young man. The other smiled at the prospect. "Well, then, run a while," shouted the girls as they threw their car into high.

ALTAR AGLOW FOR 1,000 YEARS

St. Michael's Church Is One of Oldest in France.

Before dinner we walked for a little in the gray evening and came to an old church—one of the oldest in France, it is said, built in the ninth century and called St. Michael's (at Nantua, in the French Juras). It is more than a thousand years old, and looks it. It has not been much rebuilt, I think, for invasion and revolution appear seldom to have surmounted the natural ramparts of Nantua, and only the centuries have written the story of decay. The hand of restoration has troubled it little. We slipped in through the gate, ering dusk, and tiptoed about, for there were a few lights flickering before the altar, and we saw the outlines of bowed heads. Presently a priest was silhouetted against the altar lights as he crossed and passed out by a side door. He was one of a long line that stretched back through more than half of the Christian era and through most of the history of France. When the first priest passed in front of that altar France was still under Carlovingian dynasty—under Charles the Fat, perhaps, and William of Normandy was not to conquer England until two hundred years later. Then nearly four hundred years more would creep by—dim, medieval years—before Joan of Arc should unfurl her banner of victory and martyrdom. You see how far back into the mists we are stepping here. And all those evenings the altar lights have been lit and the ministrations of priests have not failed.
